PACIFIC CREST Hospice

Hospice is not about giving up, it's about living life.

We help you focus on living in the moment

MISSION STATEMENT

To serve patients and their families by providing compassionate care with heart and grace.

Hospice is not a place, but an approach to end of life care that provides comfort and a dignified end-of-life experience to patients and their families. Hospice is provided where a patient lives, whether that is a personal residence; a long term care facility; an assisted living facility or a hospital. Choosing hospice is a decision that comes from a place of strength, courage and acceptance. When a patient chooses to spend their remaining time surrounded by loved ones, pursuing palliative care and comfort, there is a sense of peace, joy, and purpose for the patient and their family.

Individuals eligible for services may experience one or more of the following:

- Frequent hospitalizations
- Progressive weight loss
- Recurrent infections
- Decreased ability to perform Activities of Daily Living (ADL's)
- Deteriorating mental abilities

We walk this journey beside you

When you or a loved one is diagnosed with a terminal illness, you enter a time in your life that is more challenging than any you have faced before. You find yourself dealing with strong emotions-hope and fear, doubt and faith. We understand. We are caring people with professional skills in pertinent disciplines.

Our staff are essential to Pacific Crest, providing clinical excellence to our patients and families. The Pacific Crest care team will consist of you, your family and close friends, your own physician and/or a hospice physician, hospice nurse and hospice aide/homemaker, social worker, spiritual and bereavement counselors, as well as hospice volunteers.

- We provide all medications, durable medical equipment and medical supplies related to the illness we are managing
- We are available 24 hours/7 days a week
- We will bill your insurance for the services we provide

You matter to the last moment of your life
